Introduction

Schools have a vital role to play in protecting pupils from the risks of extremism and radicalisation, a role which is underpinned by the Counterterrorism and Security Act 2015 “to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism”.

The Government’s Prevent Strategy has raised awareness of the specific need to safeguard children, young people and families from violent extremism and terrorism.

There have been national situations in which extremist groups have attempted to radicalise vulnerable children and young people to hold extreme views including views justifying political, religious, sexist or racist violence, or to steer them into a rigid and narrow ideology that is intolerant of diversity and leaves them vulnerable to future radicalisation.

Tudhoe Learning Trust is fully committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all its’ pupils. Our schools recognise that safeguarding against radicalisation is no different from safeguarding against any other vulnerability.

All staff are expected to uphold and promote the fundamental principles of British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect, and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.

Tudhoe Learning Trust and all its academies value freedom of speech and the expression of beliefs/ideology as fundamental rights underpinning our society’s values. Both pupils/students and teachers have the right to speak freely and voice their opinions.

However, freedom comes with responsibility and free speech that is designed to manipulate the vulnerable or that leads to violence and harm of others goes against the moral principles in which freedom of speech is valued. Free speech is not an unqualified privilege; it is subject to laws and policies governing equality, human rights, community safety and community cohesion.

The current threat from terrorism in the United Kingdom may include the exploitation of vulnerable people, to involve them in terrorism or in activity in support of terrorism. The normalisation of extreme views may also make children and young people vulnerable to future manipulation and exploitation. The Trust is clear that this exploitation and radicalisation will be viewed as a safeguarding concern.

The Trust seeks to protect children and young people against the messages of all violent extremism including, but not restricted to, those linked to Islamist ideology, or to Far Right/ Neo Nazi/White Supremacist ideology, Irish Nationalist and Loyalist paramilitary groups, and extremist Animal Rights movements.

Definitions

Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremism leading to terrorism (Appendix 1).

Extremism is defined by Government in the prevent strategy as: Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. Also include in the definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces (Appendix 1).

1. Our Approach

The Trust will ensure staff are aware of the Prevent Strategy and are able to protect children and young people who are vulnerable or at risk of being radicalised by:

Trust Policies

The Trust has the following policies in place. All staff will be made aware of these during their point of Induction and will be reminded of these annually.

- Child Protection and Safeguarding
- Child on Child Abuse Policy
- Equality and Discrimination Policy
- Anti-Bullying Policy
- Behaviour Policy

This policy links to Keeping Children Safe in Education 2025, the DfE framework Working together to safeguard children 2023: statutory guidance and Prevent duty guidance: Guidance for specified authorities in England and Wales.

Training

All Trust staff will receive safeguarding training on an annual basis. Trust schools will ensure that staff are aware of the threats, risks and vulnerabilities that are linked to radicalisation, are aware of radicalisation and understand the signs that someone may be vulnerable to radicalisation.

All director, governors, managers, teachers, teaching assistants and support staff will:

- Understand what radicalisation and extremism are and why we need to be vigilant in school.
- Know what the Trust and school policy is on safeguarding from radicalisation and extremism and will follow the policy when issues arise.
- All parents and pupils will know that the school has policies in place to keep pupils safe from harm and that the school regularly reviews its systems to ensure they are appropriate and effective.

Professional Bodies

Staff will work alongside other professional bodies and agencies to ensure that our pupils are safe from harm.

The Curriculum

The curriculum promotes respect, tolerance and diversity. Children are encouraged to share their views and recognise that they are entitled to have their own different beliefs which should not be used to influence others.

The PSHE (Personal, Social and Health Education), Citizenship and SMSC (Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural) provision is embedded across the curriculum and underpins the ethos of the school.

Children are regularly taught about how to stay safe when using the internet and are encouraged to recognise that people are not always who they say they are online. They are taught to seek adult help if they are upset or concerned about anything they read or see on the internet.

Policy Review

This policy statement will be reviewed annually as part of the overall Child Protection and Safeguarding policy review. In this Trust, the responsibility for reviewing the Prevent Policy has been delegated to the Trust Chief Executive Officer. The Trust HR Manager will review the policy on an annual basis, and this will be approved by the Trust Chief Executive Officer.

Indicators of Vulnerability to Radicalisation

1. Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism.
2. Extremism is defined by the Government in the Prevent Strategy as: Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.
3. Extremism is defined by the Crown Prosecution Service as:

The demonstration of unacceptable behaviour by using any means or medium to express views which:
 - Encourage, justify or glorify terrorist violence in furtherance of particular beliefs;
 - Seek to provoke others to terrorist acts;
 - Encourage other serious criminal activity or seek to provoke others to serious criminal acts; or
 - Foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.
4. There is no such thing as a “typical extremist”: those who become involved in extremist actions come from a range of backgrounds and experiences, and most individuals, even those who hold radical views, do not become involved in violent extremist activity.
5. Pupils may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of social, personal and environmental factors - it is known that violent extremists exploit vulnerabilities in individuals to drive a wedge between them and their families and communities. It is vital that school staff are able to recognise those vulnerabilities.
6. Indicators of vulnerability include:

Identity Crisis - the student / pupil is distanced from their cultural / religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society;

Personal Crisis - the student / pupil may be experiencing family tensions; a sense of isolation; and low self-esteem; they may have dissociated from their existing friendship group and become involved with a new and different group of friends; they may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging;

Personal Circumstances - migration; local community tensions; and events affecting the student / pupil's country or region of origin may contribute to a sense of grievance that is triggered by personal experience of racism or discrimination or aspects of Government policy; Unmet Aspirations - the student / pupil may have perceptions of injustice; a feeling of failure; rejection of civic life;

Experiences of Criminality - which may include involvement with criminal groups, imprisonment, and poor resettlement / reintegration;

Individual Needs - students / pupils may experience difficulties with social interaction, empathy with others, understanding the consequences of their actions and awareness of the motivations of others.

However, this list is not exhaustive, nor does it mean that all young people experiencing the above are at risk of radicalisation for the purposes of violent extremism.

7. More critical risk factors could include:

- Being in contact with extremist recruiters;
- Accessing violent extremist websites, especially those with a social networking element;
- Possessing or accessing violent extremist literature;
- Using extremist narratives and a global ideology to explain personal disadvantage;
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues;
- Joining or seeking to join extremist organisations;
- Significant changes to appearance and / or behaviour; and
- Experiencing a high level of social isolation resulting in issues of identity crisis and / or personal crisis.
